Icy Snow

ReviewerI began my writing career during an extended convalescence following a car accident and have been a long-time reviewer at my own website. The original Icy Snow Blackstone was born in 1802 in northern Georgia, where her father, the Rev. John Blackstone, was prominent in local politics. I am their great-great-great-great granddaughter, and when I began writing sultry romance, I began using her name as a pseudonym. You'll find me published at Class Acts Books and The Wild Rose Press and as Toni V. Sweeney at Double Dragon Books. For all my latest news, please check out my website: Toni V. Sweeney.

A few years ago, I left the corporate world to pursue my own business & focus on my family. I'm now a proud Mommy, and my online business (<http://www.foryournose.com/>) is thriving. Reading romances is my secret passion, my addiction, second only to my husband, my one true love. ReviewerAn avid reader from youth, I like to read any genre that comes my way. I enjoy all books and hate to turn down a corner of the page to mark my place, hence the large amount of bookmarks I own. Since graduating from high school, I've worked my way up to clerical supervisor at the welfare department. It's a good job because it's 9 to 5 with weekends free and paid holidays--and the benefits are good, too. But it's left me free to discover a lot of hobbies I've tried and kept doing or discarded along the way. I enjoy counted cross-stitch, knitting, ice hockey (Go Pens!), baking, cooking, and naturally, reading. I hang out a lot at the local bookstore (well, the joke is they keep me locked in back room and let me out for special events) and have met many authors from many genres. As I've gotten older I realize the best is yet to come.

Review Editor/Reviewer I've loved reading for as long as I can remember, and along the way also realized that I was a bit picky about things like commas, spelling and all kinds of other details. I worked full-time as an editor for almost ten years and now edit as a freelancer on occasion. I indulge my love of books while taking care of my lovely kids and fabulous husband.

Reviewer I've always loved to read &ndash; my Mom used to sit me on the floor with a magazine while she ironed. She would go and hang up the ironed clothes and when she came back I was still engrossed in the magazine. That love for reading is still strong to this day. My Mom is the same way. We used to go to a used book store and get a basket full of books. The owner would ask if we were stocking up for the season. We always told her, "No, we'll be back for more in two weeks!". Now with the wonder of my Kindle I can carry a ton of books with me at all times without the backache of carrying them in my purse!

Review Editor I am an avid reader who loves and reads all genres. I started reading romance years ago, beginning with Mills and Boon. Then I got hooked on historical romances by my English teacher who introduced me to Georgette Heyer. I stopped reading romance for a long time, focusing on sci-fi/fantasy, crime, action-adventure and other genres &ndash; everything but anything to do with romance! As a teacher I started to read teen books so that I could tell my students in Hong Kong about new and interesting books. Surprisingly it was a teen book that led me to Sherrilyn Kenyon and back to the new and improved world of the romance novel in its many shapes and forms. The rest as they say is history.

Tina Reviewer, Chat Coordinator/Networking Liaison I organize the chats. Should you want to contact me to make a date, Tina@twolipsreviews.com is the email. I have two wonderful children, two kitty cats and a Yorkie named Kirby; he is my baby. I live in the great state of Maine and have a love of books! Been married to the best guy ever for 20 years now. Could not review without him. Check out my website -- REDZ World -- a place to play and have fun.

Reviewer/Reviewer Training I've had a love affair with books ever since kindergarten when I got my first public library card. While I can honestly say that over the years my interests have changed, my love for the printed (and now electronic) word has not. I'm so happy to be here at TwoLips Reviews and will always strive to give you an honest review.

ReviewerI love to read and am finding new authors that become favorites all the time. I enjoy meeting new people and talking about books and reviewing. I'm dabbling in photography &ndash; thank goodness for digital cameras. Collecting scrapbook papers is an addiction; I love the paper!! And sometimes I manage to scrap some of my pictures. Authors, please email your latest Buzz-z-z-z- for our News & Contest page to me at Julianne@TwoLipsReviews.com. I need your info by the 25th of the current month for the following month. Thanks!

ReviewerA voracious reader since age 4, I love Sci-Fi and Urban Fantasy romances, mixed through with a bit of Steampunk, Time Travel, Vampire/Shapeshifter and romantic World War II historicals. I've been a freelance and weekly newspaper writer/editor, a typesetter, an Avon lady, a professional refunder, an eBay seller, an aviation boatswains mate in the US Navy, and as a former Navy wife, I've been all over the United States, from Hawaii to Florida. I live now in Washington State, with 7 cats who &ldquo;let me live with them as long as I continue to pay the mortgage, regularly buy them meowy wowie (catnip) and feed them every time they demand it...which is often.&rdquo;

ReviewerBooks (and now ebooks) have been my favorite companion for as long as I can remember. At any point and time I can have 3 books &ldquo;in progress&rdquo; and carry my Nook with me wherever I go - literally. In addition to reading, I crochet (adequately), knit (horribly), love baseball & football and graphic design. Thankfully I have a really laid back tolerant husband, and two four legged &ldquo;kids&rdquo; (my rescue dogs) who are O.K. with my various endeavors and hobbies. I look forward to the new challenges and opportunities TwoLips Reviews has in store for me.

Reviewer I have been a voracious reader since childhood. Besides being a musician, playing several different instruments, I like to spend my time with my four legged kids and hanging out in the back yard either working in the garden or chilling on a lounge chair with a good book.

Reviewer I have loved reading for as long as I can remember. To me there's nothing better than curling up with a good book at the end of a long day and being swept away to a magical place. I'll read almost any genre, but my particular favorites are paranormal and fantasy romance. When I'm not reading I enjoy traveling, gardening, camping, hiking, and pretty much anything outdoorsy. I live in Wisconsin with my hubby, two kids and a menagerie of animals. I'm excited to share my love of books by reviewing for TwoLips Reviews!

Editor-in-Chief/Review Coordinator/Reviewer I've loved reading since I was a small child and as I've grown older my tastes have changed and now include Romance, Science Fiction and Paranormal. I have a full time job in the finance field but still manage to be an avid reader. Reading books is my favorite hobby and I love hanging out at either the library or the bookstore. I think that eReaders are the one of the best things to have been created lately and that they are providing an outlet for many authors to have a voice that might not have been possible in a world that existed solely on print. I'm thrilled to work with the reviewers on the TwoLips Reviews team.

Reviewer I have been a lover of books for what seems like forever. My love grew with my first e-reader. I love that I can meet new people and visit new places all within the comfort of my home. And with my e-reader, I can expand my must buy/read authors to include those not published by mainstream publishers.
